

Dr. Michael Johns, Board of Regents Member

Dr. Michael Johns is the Chancellor of Emory University, a position he has held since 2007. Previously, Dr. Johns served Emory University as Chief Executive Officer of the Robert W. Woodruff Health Sciences Center, Executive Vice President for Health Affairs, Chairman of the Board of Emory Healthcare, and Professor in the Department of Otolaryngology.

He received his BS in Biology from Wayne State University (1964) and an MD from the University of Michigan Medical School (with distinction, 1969).

Dr. Johns is a member of the American Academy of Otolaryngology, the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the American Clinical and Climatological Association, the American College of Surgeons and the American Medical Association, among several others. He previously served as editor of the Archives of Otolaryngology and currently serves on the editorial board of the Journal of the American Medical Association. He is a past member of the Governing Board of the National Research Council, the Board of Governors of the Clinical Center of the National Institutes of Health (NIH), and the Advisory Council of the National Center for Research Resources at NIH. He has served as a Director and as President of the American Board of Otolaryngology, as Chair of the Board of Directors of the Association of Academic Health Centers, and on the Council of Deans Administrative Board of the Association of American Medical Colleges.

Dr. Johns has been a significant contributor to many of the leading organizations and policy groups in health care, including the Institute of Medicine, AAMC, the Commonwealth Fund Task Force on Academic Health Centers, the Association of Academic Health Centers, and many others. He has authored 168 publications and delivered numerous professional international, national, and regional presentations.